Free employability help and support for older people Thursday and Friday at Whitmore Centre

For Hackney residents aged 50 to 150, not retired, still in the job market

Employability Club is a free resource for Hackney residents aged 50 and over who have not retired. We organise free training and drop-in sessions every week, with an emphasis on basic skills and awareness for employment and self-employment. Please join us if ...

- You are in paid employment, full or part-time.
- You are surviving on Job Seekers Allowance, Employment and Support Allowance, Universal Credit, Carers' Allowance, Disability Living Allowance, or any other working-age benefit.
- You are a job seeker who receives no benefits.
- You have reached State Pension age, but have decided to continue job search because you really don't want to retire.
- You are, or would like to be, self-employed.

If you fit into any of those broad categories, we have something for you. If you are not sure, please come and talk to us about it.

Employability Club will help you keep in touch with changing expectations and skills in the workplace, every Thursday afternoon and all day Friday.

We can help you with job search, making CVs, covering letters and similar documents, application forms, help with interview techniques, short courses and workshops focussing on up-to-date digital awareness and workplace practices.
